The High Road Schools and Academies of Washington, DC, specialize in serving students facing learning, language, and social challenges. As part of a network of schools comprising one of the leading specialized education companies in the country, the High Road Middle School puts over two decades of experience to work for our student body every day, in a warm, supportive environment that best suits special needs students while also holding them accountable for their progress and performance.

We credit the extraordinary success we've achieved to our unwavering commitment to a set of guiding principles that inform all our efforts and that work on behalf of the very best interests of our students: (1) We believe that each child has remarkable potential and that we have the power to bring that promise to realization. (2) We build our programs to fit the student's individual needs. (3) Most importantly, we never — never — give up on a child.

One of our paramount goals is to promote positive behaviors in our students. By doing so, we aim to improve the quality of life for children encountering emotional, social, and behavioral obstacles so that they can both increase their academic and learning skills and acquire valuable lessons that will allow them to grow into responsible, successful, contributing members of society.
