

High Road School of Providence Café

Last Year our school launched a culinary program for interested students to be exposed to the wide range of skills and experiences associated with the culinary arts. This year under the direction of Steven Hixon (General Manager of Hearth-N-Kettle in South Attleboro Ma and CEO of Kitchen Mentors) and Jason Delawrence (Transition coordinator for Highroad School of Providence) the program is being taken to the next level with the development of the Highroad Café!
